

Microsoft deliver to Manchester

Cedilla Systems introduce exciting new Microsoft Business Solutions- Navision technology to Manchester-based Vanguard Textiles

Cedilla Systems, one of the top three Microsoft Business Solutions-Navision resellers in the UK, has been awarded a contract to supply Microsoft Navision ERP (Enterprise Resource Planning) business software to leading home-furnishings specialist, Vanguard Textiles Ltd

The single, company-wide system is expected to cover most of Vanguard's business processes. The system will cover warehouse management, a specialist area for Microsoft Navision software. Vanguard own a purpose built distribution centre, measuring over 110,000 square feet and housing 4,000 product lines in 5,500 pallet locations. The system will improve the ability of the company to identify and track their stock, improve stock turn, reduce stock holding and raise levels of customer service.

The new software will allow Vanguard to meet a number of business objectives, including improved access to information across the business. An integrated software system will allow different departments at Vanguard to access shared information, and reduce duplication such as the re-keying of data into different departmental systems.

Cedilla Systems have successfully implemented ERP systems at a range of distribution companies before, including the Burnden Group, where a warehouse management solution have helped the company to reduce their stock-holding by over a quarter of a million pounds.

Cedilla's track record, and the flexibility of the Microsoft Navision product, were the deciding factors in Vanguard's purchase of a new solution. "We chose Cedilla for their reputation and experience with other companies in the distribution industry," explained John Grumley, Managing Director of Vanguard Textiles Ltd, "The Microsoft Navision product is also highly flexible, and we hope that Cedilla can help us unlock the potential of this technology."

Microsoft Navision software has developed considerably to meet the demands of companies like Vanguard. "Cedilla have been implementing and consulting for Navision for nearly six years now" commented Jason Fazackerley, Sales & Marketing Director at Cedilla. "We have always been confident that the product is the best of its kind on the market. Microsoft's continued investment in the technology will help us to ensure we can deliver benefits to companies like Vanguard"
